

HAMMER & MOSSER,
PUBLISHERS.
DECATUR, ILLINOIS.
Thursday, Evening April 29.

There is an impending whiskey war in South Carolina. Illicit distillers paddle the article from covered wagons, and when the revenue officers approach shoot them on the spot. Within the last fortnight two deputy collectors have been thus shot in open daylight. Troops are asked for to break up the ring.

Some one, probably either a dyspeptic or a chronic grumbler, complains through the columns of the Philadelphia Press of what he calls "the American hotel system." He says that wicked, waste, bad cooking, and reckless extravagance prevail from Maine to California. This grumbler seems to be so much shocked, and appears to know so well how hotels should be kept and managed, that he ought to have compassion upon the country and open a hotel so as to teach Americans the art.

An international horticultural exhibition is to be held at Cologne, Germany, from August 25th to September 26th, 1875, under the patronage of the German Emperor and the Crown Prince. The classification will be as follows: Horticulture, horticultural productions, garden architecture, garden decoration, garden tools and machinery, garden collections; artificial fruits and flowers and garden literature. Articles exhibited will be purchased and disposed of by lottery. All necessary information in regard to the exhibition can be obtained from the Horticultural Society, "Flora," Cologne. The prizes have not been announced, but will consist of sums of money, and medals of gold, silver and bronze.

AN ATTRACTIVE FEATURE.—The Indian relics and curiosities which the Interior Department proposes getting up for the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition, will probably be one of the most attractive and interesting features of that occasion. They will include representations either in originals or models of the dwellings, implements and utensils, weapons of war and the chase, articles used in the preparation of food, dress and ornament, in religious and funeral ceremonies, plays, games and amusements. The object will be to illustrate in as complete a manner as possible the life, manners, customs, etc., of all the Indian tribes. To visitors from abroad these curiosities will be in the highest degree attractive.

THE Washington Star says that a letter was lately received at the dead letter division of the post office department with the following address: "In Care of any liar, raven, portage Co., Ohio," and contained inquiries relative to a missing husband. The letter was intended for "any lawyer," but on account of the peculiarity of the manner in which the writer spelled "lawyer," no one of that ilk could be found in Ravenna to claim it. The letter was consequently sent to the dead letter office.

This reminds us of a letter that came from Ireland about twenty-five years ago, addressed to "Patrick Murphy—a workin' on the canal, America." By good luck it reached its proper destination.

It is bad enough for poor mortals to be distracted with the Brooklyn scandal, but it is inexplicably sad to think that the spirit-world should also be torn up about it. The Brooklyn correspondent of The Cincinnati Commercial, who has been interviewing some of the spiritualists and mediums who frequent the court-room, says:

"By further inquiry among the mediums, I learn that the Becherite army, under their sky-blue flag, are commanded by Cleopatra, and that the anti-Becher army, under their blood-red flag, are commanded by Mark Antony. It is melancholy to think that these two silent and anonymous adversaries should be met at larger heads in the scandal, but the thing acts there as it does on this earth, where it has brought about a state of enmity among numerous families, friends and lovers. At latest accounts, Cleopatra had made some points on Mark Antony, but there are apprehensions that he may get the dead wood on her through his superior tactics. The commotion in the spirit world over the Becher case is described by the mediums as something terrific. Cleopatra, in a private interview with a medium, says the Becher is in secret. But when her language was reported to Mark Antony, he merely gave a hoarse laugh."

Senator Chandler says that he has spent $10,000 in his attempt to secure the conviction of Becher. The Washington newspaper correspondent who called him a drunkard, there is one of these rare cases where, by having been drunk, a man will lose his money.

There is an isolated monastery in Turkey inhabited by twenty-three monks, who have not seen a woman since infancy. One of them is described by a visitor as follows: "He had never seen a woman; nor had he any idea what sort of things women were, nor what they looked like. He asked me whether they resembled the pictures of Pansy (the holy virgin) which hung in every church. He listened with great interest while I told him that all women were not exactly like the pictures he had seen, and that they differed considerably one from another in appearance, manners and understanding."

In a mass of old waste paper purchased by a junk dealer of New Haven, a few days ago, was found an envelope containing a copy of Andrew Jackson's proclamation concerning the nullification act of South Carolina in 1822. It was neatly printed on fine, heavy silk, and was presented to Wm. H. Ellis, who was a prominent politician under the administration of President Jackson.

The Boston Transcript says that Miss Ida Greeley, daughter of the late Horace Greeley, is engaged to be married to Col. N. Smith, of Kentucky. (His Eminence, the Cardinal Archbishop of New York, it is said, will perform the ceremony, which is to take place in the fall, when Miss Greeley returns from her contemplated European tour.

THE New York Herald wants to know "if Poe's monument is to have a raven, will it be a white one? Certainly. Why not? Poe was a raven" most of his life, and no one has ever yet accused him of being black.

OSHKOSH, Wis., April 23.—A terrible fire has been raging all the afternoon. All the newspaper offices, banks, telegraph offices, Harding's Opera House, postoffice, Universalist church, all the hotels but one, and nearly all the business portion of the city is gone. It is utterly impossible to estimate the loss. Two men have been killed by falling walls. The city is in the wildest state of frenzy. The fire is now under control. The burnt district is nearly a mile square. The whole of Main street is burned from Algoma to Cape streets. The burnt district is one and a half miles long, and half mile wide. Three lives are reported lost. A hundred families are homeless. Nearly all business houses are burned, including the bank. There is not a dry goods store standing on the North side. It is impossible to give the loss to-night. The city is in the hands of a mob and extra police are on duty.

MILWAUKEE, April 23.—About 1:30 o'clock this afternoon a fire broke out at Morgan Bros. or Spaulding & Peck's mill, on the north bank of the river, in Oshkosh. A high wind prevailed and the flames swept onward with irresistible force. The portion of the city consumed at this time of writing, embraced the leading business blocks and some of the finest residences in Oshkosh. The Bookwith House and Harding's Opera House are among the buildings consumed. Both telegraph offices are burned. There is great difficulty in securing despatches. Engines are called from Fond du Lac and Ripon. It is rumored that the powder magazine has blown up and five or six men perished. The total loss is estimated at $750,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—The attempt of General Butler's friends to stop the appointment of Pierpont as Attorney-General failed, and to-day the latter gentleman notified the President that he would accept the position. There is authority of one of the most prominent officials here that the understanding at the White House is that this will soon be followed by the retirement of Mr. Fish.

Secretary Dulano left for Ohio this morning. The Postmaster General leaves for home to-morrow, to be absent about a week.

Secretary Bristow will arrive from New York to-night.

OMAHA, April 28.—At 1:30 this afternoon the last break on the Union Pacific Road was closed near Green River and all trains waiting at that point passed over the new bridges east and west. The two emigrant trains which left Omaha Sunday with over 1,000 passengers have gone through without transferring; also express trains leaving Monday noon. There is now no interruption to the regular movement of trains between Omaha and San Francisco.

THE river at this point has fallen about two inches since last night. Operations at the smelting works, which were temporarily suspended, will probably be resumed to-morrow.

CINCINNATI, April 28.—The gentlemen connected with the Agricultural Department at Washington, who are coming here from that city to inspect the new Custom-house, which is in process of erection, have not yet arrived; and consequently no steps have been taken to decide whether the part of the structure already completed must be taken down on account of its imperfections. The inspection will be private, and its result will not be made known until a full report has been submitted to the Washington Department.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 28.—A negro named Dan White attempted to ravish a widow lady living near Raleigh, in this county, on whose plantation he was at work. Her cries attracted the attention of her son, at sight of whom the negro fled, but was afterwards captured and taken to Bartlett to await trial. Last night he was taken from jail by a party of disguised men, and carried to the woods and hung to a tree.

TILTON-BEECHER.

Tracy on the Stand.

THE NEW ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Rumors of More Cabinet Changes.

TERRIBLE FIRE AT OSHKOSH, WIS.

The Union Pacific Rail-Open Again.

NEW YORK, April 28.—In the Tilton-Beecher trial this morning, Mr. Tracy resumed the stand, and testified that he had an interview with Franklin Woodruff, in which he said many people thought Moulton should issue a card about his relations with the Woodruff people; it would not hurt him, and he wished me to have a conversation with Moulton; Woodruff referred to some papers in Moulton's possession relating to the difficulty, and it was in respect to this Woodruff suggested secrecy; Woodruff brought Moulton to witness' office; the object of the introduction was alluded to, and the question submitted to the witness was if it were wise to answer the publication by public card; witness said he could say nothing until he saw 'the papers; the appointment was made for the following Sunday at Moulton's house; he had no instructions, consultation or authority from Beecher before going there; I went there after dinner on Sunday, and remained about eight hours; I have a faint impression that Tilton was there; Moulton, Woodruff and I went to the study, and Moulton took out some papers; he first showed me the letter of contrition; he said, in answer to my question, that the handwriting was his, and he showed me the indorsement signed by Beecher; he said it was notes of a conversation he had with Beecher; Moulton then showed me the letter of retraction; I said that 'this would seem to imply that Beecher had been attempting the virtue of the paper; he said generally that after Tilton and accused Beecher he went to Mrs. Tilton and obtained this paper from her; witness said Tilton read a part of the "True Story"; his statement began with an allusion to the Woodruff publication, and spoke of his relations with Bowen and Mrs. Tilton's charge; it contained the letter of contrition and Tilton's letter through Bowen to Beecher; it also contained praises of Mrs. Tilton for resisting the amorous pleas of her pastor; he spoke of Beecher getting a retraction, and said Beecher had admitted guilt in the letters of apology; I said the language in that letter was too general; he then denounced Beecher and accused him of adultery with other women; not with his wife; said he could prove this; I asked Moulton if Tilton charged Mr. Beecher with adultery; he said no; he said, ask Tilton what the charge was; he then brought Tilton to the room; Tilton said that he'd been asked to state his case to me, and asked if he and Beecher came into collision; it would be etiquette of the profession to allow me to be counsel for the other party; I said that if he made his statement to me, I would not feel at liberty to act for the other party; he then read from his manuscript, talking the whole time for about an hour; when he finished reading his paper, I said, your statement settles one thing, you do not charge Beecher with adultery; he said no, my wife is a pure woman; he said he had never told Mrs. Woodruff one word contained in her publication; we discussed his paper for a long time as answer to Woodruff's publication; I asked him, at one point, what his feelings toward Beecher were; he said friendly, or not unfriendly; he wanted to bury the matter; he said Woodruff wanted him to give the matter a simple denial, and this would make them liable for libel; and the matter would come in to the courts; I refuted the idea of an action for libel; he thought the charges too circumstantial to be met by a simple denial, which would not satisfy the people; he said he could not deny it truthfully, nor could he lie; the publication contained some things that were true; the discussion lasted a long time; at the close Moulton asked me what I would propose; I said if they desired to bury it, they must declare the publication false and burn the documents; Tilton said he wouldn't permit them to be burned because Beecher would then turn and ruin him; he said that if Beecher did, the members of Plymouth Church would, because they thought he had slandered Beecher; he said that if the documents were out of the way Beecher would not rest in the church from attacking him; and he said he would have to stand it, as it was true; I suggested that the parties connected with the scandal should publish a card denying the specifications relating to them; he could not deny it in that way, or brand that story as a lie; that he would publish the story in its right way; in that interview I received information that Mrs. Davis could, and would deny portions of that scandal relating to her, and Tilton said that the relations of Mrs. Davis, as spoken of in that paper, were wholly untrue; I suggested that he and Beecher should go to some prominent citizens and make their statements to them; that the documents could be burned, and if the matter came up again these parties could satisfy the public with the true position of matters; we could not agree and separated; afterwards had a conversation with Moulton, and suggested Tilton's going to Europe; Tilton denied having told Woodruff these stories; said they must have been told by Mrs. Morse; while Tilton was reading his paper I said Beecher would never stand this being published if it was not true; Moulton never said that the essential points of this story were true; the general statement they both made to me was that the story told by Woodruff was essentially false; didn't say that in a case like this lying would be justifiable.

After recess, Shearman recalled Mrs. Ovington, of the other side, for cross-examination.

She said: In regard to the ride of Mrs. Tilton and herself to Coney Island, July 10, 1874, that it was about 5 o'clock; Tilton was before the committee that evening at Mr. Storrs; they didn't know, as they passed, that Tilton was before the committee; she had written to Cleveland to know if Tilton was to appear, and had received an answer by the district telegraph boy immediately. These telegrams were produced and offered in evidence by Shearman. The notes are as follows:

MR. CLEVELAND: DEAR SIR—In Mr. Tilton with the committee this p. m., or will be informed of anything that may disturb him. Please send word by bearer, as I have promised, in that case, to telegraph Mrs. Tilton to come and remain with me to-night. I may have forgotten to mention this when speaking to you this p. m. Yours, sincerely, M. O'VINGTON.

MR. CLEVELAND in reply: DEAR MADAM—Tilton is here, but I guess you need not send for Mrs. Tilton. Yours, always, CLEVELAND.

Mrs. Tilton wrote: DEAR MRS. CLEVELAND—Don't fear for me. I will stay to-night and come for you in the morning. We will both trust and wait on the Lord. Affectionately, your sister, ELIZABETH.

Witness said she told Mrs. Tilton what she heard from Cleveland, and invited her to her (witness') house; did not expect her the following morning, but she came before breakfast. Witness then left the stand.

Tracy then testified: Nothing was said to me in this conversation about repeating the conversation to Beecher; subsequently Moulton asked me to do so. Before this interview I only knew about the Woodruff scandal what was published during the discussion between Tilton and myself as to how the scandal should be met; what would be lying was discussed; Moulton never told me Beecher was guilty of sexual intercourse; nor did I say if it were true it was a case where lying was justifiable; said nothing about it; it is true it was talked over between Moulton and myself at one time; I said this case should be summarily treated; that this story was essentially false; but to take all points separately and deny them would not be lying; that I would take the responsibility of that form of denial; I said if the scandal were published in the form he proposed it would destroy him, his wife, and Beecher; nothing was said about Tilton having condoned his wife's offense, and that the world would never forgive him. Moulton sent for me, and we had an interview at his house about Tilton's letter to Dr. Bacon. This conversation the court ruled out. The witness continued: I heard the Bacon letter read there, and read it next morning myself. Next day Tilton called on me. I remember the interview with Moulton in July, 1874, about obtaining documents from him for Beecher; I took a letter from Beecher to Moulton. Moulton refused to take my letter asking for copies of letters in his possession, and asked me to take back Beecher's letter.

Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The President having tendered the position of Attorney General to Judge Edward Pierpont, of New York, that gentleman has accepted.

Attorney General Williams' letter to the President, resigning, closes as follows: "I cannot dissolve our official relations without thanking you for the many acts of friendship and confidence with which you have honored me, and expressing for you, personally, my very high regard and esteem."

The President replied: "In accepting your resignation of the office of Attorney General of the United States, to take effect May 15, 1875, as tendered by your letter of the 22d of April, allow me to express my appreciation of the ability, zeal and efficiency with which the trust confided to your charge has been performed. My sincere friendship accompanies you in the new field of life you have chosen, and my best wishes for your success."

WE are ruined by Chinese cheap labor. Bricks made in China are sold in San Francisco for less than they can be made for this side of the Pacific, notwithstanding the ad valorem duty of twenty per cent on them.

HERE is a case for relief. The young grasshoppers in Kansas are starving. They came out before vegetation, and are actually perishing for lack of the commonest necessities of life.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS:
Thursday Evening, April 20.

THE DAILY REPUBLICAN will be delivered to subscribers in any part of the city, at Twenty Cents per Week.
Local Notices will be inserted at Ten Cents per line for the first insertion, and five cents per line for each subsequent insertion. Rates for time advertisements will be furnished upon application at the office.

TO DAILY SUBSCRIBERS.

Subscriptions to the DAILY REPUBLICAN will be collected every Saturday, at the places where the paper is delivered, unless otherwise ordered.
We would be much obliged if our subscribers would inform the carrier, at what particular place they desire their papers to be left.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

Keeney's Champion Biscuit, at Imboden & Co.'s.

Several crossings in different parts of the city require attention at an early day.

A full line of portfolios and portable writing desks, at L. J. Davis & Co.'s.

Fugitive huts are chased along the streets through mud holes at a lively rate to-day.

D. M. Barnett & Co. have choice butter and fresh eggs.

Car loads of corn-plants and other agricultural implements are received here every week for our dealers.

The rain of last night put new life into vegetation, and everything in that line brightened up wonderfully.

Lewis & Milligan have just opened a lot of choice teas.

Police business has again become distressingly dull. Offenders against the city laws are few, and the police force has nothing to do.

Kaisins, prunes, and domestic dried fruits, at Newell & Hammer's.

A number of fellows were on the streets drunk before seven o'clock this morning. They were early birds, and they caught the "worm."

The disappointment experienced on account of the announcement that Barnum is "not coming until June," is universal and profound.

Go to Nethermeyer's for sugar-cured breakfast bacon of superior quality.

A number of persons were baptized at the prayer meeting of the Baptist Church last evening. The services were deeply interesting and impressive.

A large amount of ploughing has been done within the past few days, and if the weather should be favorable corn planting will begin in earnest next week.

The life-size oil painting of James Shonalt, which is on exhibition at I. J. Davis & Co.'s book store, is admired by all who see it.

Coopers report that business in their line is very dull at present. They are occasionally so short of work that they cannot keep all their workmen in employment.

A blind man was on the streets yesterday and to-day, peddling a little circular, which contained a poem by himself, and asking alms of the people who passed him.

It is thought by members of the bar that the May term of the circuit court, which convenes on the second Monday in May, will be likely to continue eight weeks, at least.

The Sawyer Bros. will soon cease operations at their oil mill because of the scarcity of flaxseed, and will commence repairing machinery and putting things in trim for a lively run next fall and winter.

Farmers are too busy on their land to find time to come to town, consequently but few people are seen upon the streets, and trade is not as lively as it will be when farmers are through with their planting.

A long stretch of sidewalk has been relaid on the north side of West Third Street within the last two or three days. The same job is needed in several other localities, and will probably be done as soon as the Supervisor can get around with his force.

Attendance at the weekly prayer meetings was good last evening, and we hear the exercises spoken of as being unusually interesting. More or less of religious interest prevails in some of the congregations.

The county treasurer says that the amount he lately received from the State Treasurer for refunding to the taxpayers is fast "growing smaller by degrees and beautifully less," so that it will be all gone before long if the calls therefor are made in the future as they have been since his announcement that he was ready to begin refunding. No one, however, needs to be the least bit alarmed that any little delay on his part will deprive him of his share of the fund, because, according to the law of the State, at any time within two years a taxpayer may go to his county treasurer and on demand receive that part of the tax illegally collected, which is his due.

Strictly Pure.—It is a fact that while Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and True Flavoring Extracts, Lemon, Vanilla, etc., have been made for many years without reducing their standard of perfect purity, not another Baking Powder or Flavoring Extract in the market is free from adulteration. There are no coloring poisonous oils or acids in Dr. Price's Flavors, nor chalk, alum, or other injurious substances in his Cream Baking Powder. We know the manufacturers take pride in having their articles strictly pure.

More Jail Birds.—On yesterday, Sheriff Thomson, of Moultrie Co., brought to this city and committed to our county jail four prisoners, named respectively Charles Brown, Laum McCarten, Chas. Atherton and Joseph Walters. These are the men who were caught in their attempt to rob a bank at Sullivan last fall. Their case was called for trial in the Moultrie county Circuit Court this week, and their counsel secured a continuance to the November term. On account of there being no jail at Sullivan, where the prisoners could be securely kept, they were brought here and committed, as above stated. They are fine-looking men, and well dressed. It is supposed that they are part of a gang of robbers, and it is believed they are sailing under aliases. They have employed able counsel, and intend to make a vigorous fight.

There are now twenty-six prisoners confined in the jail.

FIRE.

Two Stables Burned.

Last night about 11 o'clock, the fire alarm was sounded, and the members of the Rescue Hose Co. assembled quickly at their headquarters and hastened down East Main street until they arrived at Franklin, and thence to the stables of Mr. K. Hatch and J. Frank which were in flames. Several of the firemen got into Hatch's stable and got out the horse and buggy before the flames had made much progress. The fire had too good a hold on the opposite stable, and crammed, as it was, with hay, etc., it burned fiercely, and was soon in ashes. A horse belonging to a Mr. Calvin was burned to death in this stable some time before the firemen arrived.

The firemen worked well, and flooded Hatch's stable and all the combustible material in its vicinity. In spite of their efforts a small shed and some fencing burned. The fire was at last got under control, and in about half an hour it was all extinguished. Frank's barn was entirely destroyed, together with the horse and harness—a total loss of about $500.

The stable was the property of Mr. J. Frank, the boot and shoe maker, who sustains a loss of about $400, on which there is not a dollar of insurance.

Nothing remains of Mr. Hatch's stable, excepting a mass of charred and blackened timber, which is worthless. The loss to Mr. H. is much less than that of his neighbor.

Mr. Calvin states that he has known for some time past that some party or parties have been sleeping in his stable, and he supposes that the fire caught to the hay, and the lodger "lit out" to save himself.

Corsets.—A very large stock—at lower prices than any other place, at 27-codawlvw GOLDBURG'S.

Wait for the "One-Day" Excursion.—Who desires to go on an excursion Friday and Saturday? We do not, and May-Day as observed in this country, has no attractions at all, therefore we will wait and go on the "one day" excursion of Thursday, May 13th. As regards arriving home at midnight we would greatly prefer that to remaining all night, encumbered by hotel expenses, and subject to the corrupting influences of a great city.

Newell & Hammer received an immense invoice of fresh groceries yesterday. The sidewalk in front of their store was literally jammed with boxes, barrels, sacks, etc.

Attempt to Burn a Stable.—Some time last night an attempt was made to fire a stable belonging to J. D. Trowbridge, situated on the alley, between West Prairie and West William streets. A carpenter's shop near by was entered and a lot of shavings and other combustible material were taken out and piled up against the building upon which the attempt was to be made. These preparations were discovered this morning by Mr. Trowbridge, who occupies the premises. It is supposed that the alarm of fire excited fear of discovery in the would-be incendiary, and interfered with his operations before he had an opportunity to apply the match.

Every Seven Years, physiologists say, the human body is entirely changed and renewed. Every moment of our lives, every part of our bodies is wearing out and being built up anew of fresh matter. This work is accomplished by the blood, which goes through every part. But if the blood becomes weak or vitiated, and does not perform its work properly, the system is actually poisoned by the worn out matter clogging the vital organs instead of leaving the body. For dyspepsia, biliousness, kidney, skin and liver troubles, fevers, and all diseases arising from vitiated blood, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS are a sovereign remedy. [23-dwlvw]

THE RUSH TO KANSAS AND COLORADO.

The indications are that the rush to Kansas and Colorado will be greater than ever in 1874. The shortest way to reach the Far West is through St. Louis, the great Mississippi-Valley City, of over 450,000 inhabitants, and thence west over the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Short Line, which reaches all the great land grants in the West, and runs six fast Express trains, two more than any other road, between the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers. This road, in the last two years, has expended over two million dollars, besides earnings, in extraordinary improvement of roadway, in relaying its line with best quality of new steel and iron rails, on broad, new ties, and in passenger equipment, having substituted for ordinary cars new running chair coaches, with every appliance for comfort and safety, being elegantly carpeted and fitted with dressing rooms, with toilet conveniences for ladies, gentlemen and families traveling with children, free of any extra charge. Any ticket agent selling through tickets to the West will furnish tickets by this excellent route through St. Louis, on the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Short Line, the best and shortest to Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, California and the Great West, it being the only line running through cars between St. Louis and Omaha. For map, circulars and time-tables address either F. A. Palmer, Indian, Mo., either of whom will furnish any information desired. [Jan 8wif]
